HUMAN SLAVERY STILL EXISTS
locally, statewide, nationally & internationally

Monday, February 24, 2014, 7:00 - 8:30 PM
Tompkins County Public Library, Borg Warner Room

What is Human Trafficking? • How pervasive is the problem? • What is happening in Cambodia and India and locally? • How are Governments and Law enforcement agencies responding? • What are some strategies for prevention? • What can individuals and organizations do locally?

Sabel Bong M.A., M.S., Educational Opportunity Program Counselor, SUNY-Canton College.

David Bugg Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Sociology, State University of New York-Potsdam College.

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC – Light refreshments
This program is co-sponsored by The Ithaca Branch of AAUW (American Association of University Women).

Sabel Bong, M.A., M.S. is an E.O.P. (Educational Opportunity Program) Counselor at the State University of New York, Canton College, and was a Volunteer Executive Director of C.O.C.O.A. (Children of Our Community Open to Achievement) House, Inc.

Mr. Bong will review human trafficking on the international scale, both “sex tourism” and labor trafficking. He will also share strategies on how to prevent children and women from being trafficked, including increased awareness of trafficker’s “tricks” and supporting organizations that keep children safe and off the streets. He will also discuss things we can do as individuals and as organizations to help address the issue of human trafficking.

David Bugg, Ph.D. is an Assistant Professor of Sociology at the State University of New York, Potsdam College. He teaches courses for the Criminal Justice major as well as the Sociology Department. Dr. Bugg's main areas of teaching include criminology, corrections, violent crime, comparative criminology, troubled youth, victimology and statistics.

Dr. Bugg will present material on the role of organized crime groups in human trafficking statewide, nationally and internationally. He will touch on issues of global corruption and enforcement of laws as well as discuss governments’ responses to human trafficking.
